LANGUAGES – Along with the Church's languages of teaching and explaining, counsel, comfort and inspiration, also comes preaching and proclaiming the Good News of Jesus Christ. So, we have actually cycled around back to the beginning; even to your beginning and mine: Hearing the Good News. Whether it is one-to-one in a quiet place, or in front of thousands in a very public place, God may bring us to a place and time to share our own story of God's Good News and forgiveness in our lives. We may be blessed enough to see the desired effect, but that is not the real point. Obedience is the point; to share when led by the Spirit. God is responsible for the outcome. And if it happens that God move one or many to join His body of believers, maybe even your own community of the faithful, all the better. But then you real work in the cycle of faith begins all over again with a new-born believer.
